

Uniting Home, Church and School in Jesus Christ

Dear Pastor, Parent or Church Leader,

Are we effectively passing the baton of faith in and obedience to Christ to the next generation? God commands us to impress His laws, His ways and His truth upon our children so they will not forget Him or turn away from Him (Deut 4:7-9; 6:4-7, Ps 78:5-7, Prov 22:6). If just one generation fails in this regard, the next generation “turns to other gods” instead. His judgment and chastisement always follow such failures (e.g. Judges 2:7-15).

Whether you read the newspaper, a Barna study, or statistics about our denomination, the facts reflect a gross decline in America’s moral condition. We are losing the battle for our children! Less than 10% of youth have a Christian worldview, indicating that they have not learned the TRUTH. Most of today’s parents received 16,000+ hours of worldly indoctrination during 12+ years of Scripture-less schooling, and now seven out of ten born again parents failed to mention leading their child to Christ among critical outcomes of their parenting. Can such a generation of parents effectively disciple their children either at home or at church? What a national tragedy! Clearly we need a different plan for passing the baton of faith to the next and future generations.

Now there’s hope! What if we took ownership of the education of our children and started a second and different kind of “public school” system, one that is owned by our churches, not the government? What if we viewed schools as missions the way Lottie Moon did in China? What if our great denomination decided to penetrate every neighborhood and town, giving every child the opportunity for a Kingdom education? In one generation, we could turn the tide of spiritual decline in this nation. Talk about evangelism! Millions of children and parents would come to faith in Christ and be disciplined to serve in our churches and communities! Could this be the foundation for national revival?

Intriguing? Learn why and how to start a school in your community. It’s time to join God and a growing tide of pastors and laity in the first great church movement of the 21st Century, the Kingdom Education movement. See how God is uniting home, church and school under the banner of Jesus Christ. Whoever owns the schools...owns the hearts and minds of the children. Why shouldn’t our churches and homes own this vital training ground? Contact us today about hosting Christian School 101 at your church.
